

SAINTS

Christmas 2008 Newsletter

Happy Holidays to all of our friends who have helped us care for the animals of SAINTS!

This will be our third year at the new SAINTS location and even I can hardly recognize the place. We have the multi-purpose room with an office, a medical area, a feline leukemia cat room with an outside run, the little barn, the new shaving shed, a shop for all of our storage and even a hide-away suite for overnight guests. We are finally getting a working furnace, and are hoping to soon have a grooming area. But the very best change of all is our beautiful Memorial Garden. This is the magical place where we remember them all because all of them have touched and changed our lives in so many ways.

This year we lost so many.... Jesse, found alone at the dump and who became the Queen of the MP room, Mugsy, our baggy Buddha, little Phyllis, wandering in a parking lot, Clyde, who stole my heart and forgot to give it back, Raymond, because everyone loved Raymond, Hook, the one eyed wise one, Aladdin, Sanjaya, Clover, our beloved and lovely Jeanette...and so very many special more.

That is what you helped us to do this year, build their home strong and true. You gave them medical care to help them feel well, good food, soft, warm, dry beds and many loving arms to hold them. SAINTS exists for the ones that no one will help and yet you helped them all to find love and happiness at the end of their lives.

Many others have found their own homes, like....Milo, the broken pelvis dog, Princeton, the cat with a broken jaw, Tiger Lily, our ancient 18 yr old poodle, and Beau, our 6 month old puppy. Our volunteers have fallen in love and taken into their own homes...Slasher Cat Millie, Carly, Gwen, Lady, Libby and his Lady, Codi and others too.

We have taken in as many have gone out, just recently, 17 special needs cats from an SPCA cruelty seizure, Floyd the duck who escaped certain death in a slaughter house and is currently refusing to leave our office and join Edwina our other duck out in the barn yard bird area. We have taken in dogs with skin conditions, medical issues, and simple old age. I cannot even count how many sick, abandoned or incontinent cats who have found their way to SAINTS this year, We have helped senior pets from senior homes whose families have all passed away. My current new favorite is Suzie Q, a five pound fat and senior leaking chihuahua who I call "The Badger" because she was brave enough to try to take down Percy the cow when he got too snoopy and rude.

SAINTS has become a very special place, it is special because of the incredible animals who come here, it is special because of our amazing volunteers and SAINTS is special because so many of you have banded together in one common cause, to care for the ones that were alone.

From the bottom of our hearts, all of us thank you!

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to you and those you love!
